state and settled at Irondale, a small town on the Baltimore & Ohio, a short distance from Grafton. He there established the Irondale Furnace Company, and invested about $200,000 in the business, all of which amount he has lost because of his lack of success. His financial losses have broken the spirit of this titled gentleman, who, with tears in his eyes, pleaded with Judge Jackson yesterday, in his honor's private office, to give him just a little longer time—just one more postponement of sale—in which to reduce the property in which he had sunk so much of his time, talents and energy.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

The board of county commissioners meets to-day in regular session.

The ladies aid society of the German M. E. church will give a lawn fete next Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
George Rentsch, at Pleasant Valley.

In July of 1897 the rainfall in Wheeling aggregated 5.63 inches. In July just ended the rainfall was 5.70 inches, just one-hundredth of an inch more than in 1897.

rivaling the naval series, just completed, is having as large a sale as the other.

Resurreptions at Top Hill.

The Top mill will resume a livelier aspect this week. The sheet mill goes on this morning after ten-days' idleness, and Wednesday morning the blast furnace resumes in full. The blast furnace, which was out for six weeks, received needed repairs during that period.

MARSHALL DEMOCRATS.

On Saturday afternoon at Benwood, the county convention of the Marshall Democracy was held and a ticket put up. M. VanPelt, of Washington district, was chairman of the convention.
The Chicago and Weston platforms were endorsed. The following ticket nominated:

House of Delegates—P. J. Mercer, of Mead, and E. K. Bassett, of Union.
County Commissioner—J. W. Dunlevy, of Cameron.
Superintendent of schools—W. S.
Powell, of Washington district.

THAT STEAM FERRY.

The ferry boat Ollie Neville was to have been placed in the Island trade this week, but the owner has decided to place her in the trade at East Liverpool, and as a result Messrs. Rankin are now hunting for another boat for the local trade. They say they will have a boat running in a few days.
There are now three naphtha river lines in the main channel of the river.
Messrs. Rankin will institute suit for damages against the owner of the Neville for breach of contract.

HORSE THIEVES

Captured Near Moundsville to be Taken to Gallipolis.

MARSHAL OF THE OHIO TOWN

HERE YESTERDAY FOR THE PUR-POSE OF TAKING A PAIR INTO CUSTODY AND BACK TO GALLI-POLIS FOR TRIAL—THE THIEVES DROVE NEARLY 200 MILES AND THEN WERE CAUGHT UP THROUGH DEAL-INGS WITH A PEDDLER.

Some time ago, Charles Taylor and Edward Wallace, the latter a colored man, who are said to be members in good standing of the genus tramp, while passing through Gallia county, Ohio, stole a horse from one farmer and a buggy and harness from another. Then losing no time they crossed the river into this state, and drove up the river roads, landing last week in Marshall county, back of Moundsville.

Not content with posing as horse thieves, the pair "lifted" the "pack" of a peddler. The peddler was asleep beside the road with his "pack" near by. Taylor and Wallace came along in their stolen rig, and was a glittering opportunity to add to their ill-gotten goods. In a few minutes the peddler awoke to consciousness and to the fact that he had been victimized. He lost no time in following up the thieves and was instrumental in securing their arrest near Moundsville.

The thieves gave the horse and buggy to a lawyer as security for payment of his services, and it was through this transaction that the authorities learned that the rig was stolen property. The Gallia county people were communicated with, and the result is that Marshal Ed H. Kuhn came up to Mound-ville yesterday, identified the stolen property, and arranged to take Taylor and Wallace back to Gallipolis this morning. The marshal was in the city last night and stated that the thieves would return to Ohio without the formality of a regulation. Punishment for horsestealing in Ohio is very severe and it appears likely that Taylor and Wallace will be sent to the state penitentiary for long terms.

WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE.

Strange Story of the Career of the Russian Count, Late Owner of the Irondale Furnace, Just Purchased by a Wheeling man.

Last week the Intelligencer chronicled the sale of the Irondale furnace property in Preston county to Charles Bachman, of this city. In this connection the following interesting story of the career of the former owner of the furnace, a Russian count, is interesting: There is every indication that the commissioner's sale of the Irondale Furnace Company's property in Preston county, which was made yesterday at public auction in front of the government building, will not stand. The entire property, it will be remembered, brought $11,400.

The report of Commissioner Charles R. Durbin, of Grafton, on the sale was fired and the court subsequently made an order designating August 3 as the date for hearing a motion to confirm the sale, at which time it is practically certain some upset bids will be presented.

The Irondale Furnace Company is virtually composed of Felix Nemegyel, who is a Russian count, and who had to flee from that country because of the liberal views he held regarding government.

Count Nemegyel was in Parkersburg yesterday. He is a fine looking, gray-headed and gray-bearded gentleman, who is over sixty years old. He was at one time a very rich man, but the unjust prosecutions he underwent in Russia because he dared to represent liberal ideas caused him many heavy financial losses. He is a gentleman of superior education and scholarly attainments. He is dignified, chivalrous and possesses manners of courtly graciousness, despite the heavy burden of reverses that weigh him down and have so visibly changed him. In the eyes of his friends, in recent years. Count Ne-megyel was a great friend of Kosuth, and after being compelled to leave his native country he went to Mexico, where he engaged in the mahogany business, and finally removed to this
town on the Baltimore & Ohio, a short
tablished the Irondale Furnace Com-
of his time, talents and energy.

The pathetic appeal would have softened a much harder heart than Judge Jackson's, for, indeed, he is a sympathetic nature—proofs of which are so often shown in his official acts upon the bench. But Judge Jackson found it hard to turn a mute ear to such an appeal, and could only bring himself up to the point of refusing the count's requests by remembering that for four years he had from time to time stayed —without unjustly treating the rights of claimants—the inevitable, the sale of yesterday.

However, the unfortunate count will have between now and August 3 in which to proceed with some plan, with which, if he be successful, may save to him his valuable property.

In New York City there lives a man of wealth who is a son-in-law of Count Nemegyel, but the latter's appeals to him to assist and save a valuable property from being sold for a mere trivial amount have been unheeded.

The story of Count Felix Nemegyel is indeed a sad one.
